The Flight from Harrisburg

Henceforward so will date the years from Abes Reign.

N° 2.

The breast to Seward. The Drum-stick to Scott. and Ill keep the wing for myself in case of another flight. Confound those Southern rascals think made it with the thighs & sides bone I had intended for Anderson. plagued fond play- Ill make them for it yet. Here Chase! here's a bone, poor fellow!

Lay the balances on the table. Ill give them another Dread-Scott case to complain of before all's ended. See if my guard is at the door!

May it please your Excellency I bring you the scales nicely adjusted to weigh out southern offences, smelt out treasons
